

BELLY UPS This product was sent to me directly from the creator. Laura Kronen is a "mompreneur" who created this product to keep maternity pants from sliding down our bellies. I know the frustration of this. My favorite maternity jeans always slid down on me. I would find myself walking around with my hands in the front pockets just to keep them from falling down. I was out of luck if I was carrying my toddler! OOPS! These are a suspender of sorts you hook to your bra and then to your bottoms. I have to say these worked great for me. They were very comfortable, and you couldn't even see them under my clothes. This product gets a four purse rating in my book! Belly Ups are definitely worth including in your maternity wardrobe!
